University of Wisconsin-Madison
School of Education Doctoral Preparation Program

Project SITE – Scholarship in Teacher Education

This scholarship provides:

- Guaranteed full doctoral funding for four years, payment of tuition for four years, travel funds for four years, as well as benefits including access to health insurance if desired.

- Doctoral level preparation to assume leadership roles in teaching, research, and service in higher education with a concentration in special education teacher education.

- Specialized coursework, internships, and mentoring from 13 nationally renowned special education researchers.

UW-Madison’s Special Education Doctoral Program is seeking applicants with:

- Academic excellence in a master’s degree in special education or a related field

- Interest in a research and leadership career specializing in special education

For more information on Special Education at UW-Madison:

To apply: